Louisiana Tech University Coursework

Artificial Intelligence | Fall 2025

- The design and implementation of artificially intelligent programs
- Machine learning, perceptrons, multi-layer networks, and deep learning

Software Design and Engineering | Spring 2026

- Developed C programs within a Linux environment, utilizing system tools and the UNIX system call interface.
- Gained experience with low-level programming concepts, including bit-level information manipulation, pointers, memory management, and assembly programming.

School Projects

An Intelligent Othello Player | Fall 2025

- Implemented a classical two player game, Othello, along with an AI opponent.
- Created with Python, This assignment implements the Mini-Max algorithm, with alpha-beta pruning with a reasonable heuristic.

IoT motion-monitoring dashboard | Spring 2026

- Created using React, Django, and Docker
- Built a web dashboard for a privacy-focused sensor network: live motion event feed, per-node statistics, and Dockerized full stack (React, Django REST API, PostgreSQL, MQTT broker, Nginx).
